Sumihiro Investments Engages Dan Rene Communications to Support Diverse Client Base
Addressing Challenges and Promoting Opportunities with Global Investment Consultancy's Clients

[Denver, CO] [November 2, 2022] – Sumihiro Investments, a boutique consulting firm specializing in international and domestic investment services, is pleased to announce the collaboration with Dan Rene Communications. This partnership focuses on assisting Sumihiro Investments' diverse client portfolio in addressing their unique strategic communication challenges.

Sumihiro Investments clients include businesses involved in inbound manufacturing site selection, technology, consumer products, clean energy, water purification, and telecommunication. Its investment consulting services tailor to projects with investment volumes ranging from $10 million USD to $250 million USD.

"Whether you are a well-established company, or a budding entrepreneur, thriving and competing effectively in the global marketplace is paramount for success," emphasized Gary Sumihiro, Founder of Sumihiro Investments. "We are excited to extend our partnership with Dan Rene Communications to address our clients' public relations and external affairs needs. Our prior experience working with Dan has consistently delivered positive results and advanced our clients' strategic objectives, especially for international companies seeking to establish a presence in the U.S. market."

Sumihiro Investments has a history of successful collaboration with Dan Rene Communications, having previously worked together on projects for EUCAST Global, SunFleur, NuReal.ai, AST and many other prominent companies.

"Gary is always spearheading new and exciting ventures, and he boasts an impressive roster of clients that I am enthusiastic about serving," commented Dan Rene, a strategic communications counselor at Dan Rene Communications. "Gary and I share a long history of client success stories, and I am looking forward to creating many more."

This strategic collaboration between Sumihiro Investments and Dan Rene Communications underscores their commitment to providing comprehensive and effective solutions to meet the communication challenges faced by companies operating in today's dynamic global investment landscape.
